EXPERIENCE

FOUNDER / PRODUCER

2025 - Present | Lesson Zero Studio | Laramie, WY

Founded an edtech-focused video production studio; manage all client relationships, project scoping, content development, and digital workflow from initial brief through delivery

Developed and maintain all studio digital infrastructure including project management systems, intake workflows, and digital asset delivery pipelines

Produced commercial content for clients including Zembla (an online educational quiz bowl platform), coordinating production end-to-end

INSTRUCTIONAL MEDIA PRODUCER

2021 - 2025 | Cornell University

Co-taught an 8-week faculty development workshop on designing video-based assignments, delivered through Canvas with Panopto-hosted instructional content; collaborated with instructional designers Ben Moss and Melina Ivanchikova on curriculum development, facilitation, and participant support

Produced Nobody's Fault: An Interactive Experience in Data Science Practice, a branching-narrative interactive video for a data science ethics course; served as on-the-ground producer working directly with the course instructor on design and execution while coordinating with a remote director

Produced 2021 updates for the edX course "The Computing Technology Inside Your Smartphone" in direct collaboration with a Cornell computer architecture faculty member; directed on-camera performance and developed instructional graphics to translate complex technical concepts for a broad audience

Managed digital asset organization on shared media servers; trained and mentored student production assistants in shooting and editing workflows

Drove a 5x increase in views and 2x increase in subscribers for the department YouTube channel

ADJUNCT INSTRUCTOR

2010 - 2013 | University of Montevallo

Taught three courses per semester as sole instructor — first-year composition and literature survey courses — with class sizes of 24-30 students

Designed syllabi, assignments, and assessments independently for all courses; guided students through iterative writing processes with emphasis on revision and critical thinking
